

Student Success Advisors - CAPS

Each program has a designated Student Success Advisor (SSA) from the Office of Student Success & Retention who serves as the first point of contact for student advising and support.

The Office of Student Success & Retention hosts an Advising Week each term to connect new students with their SSA and introduce a variety of available resources and services. All students are required to participate in an Advising Week appointment in order to be approved for registration in future terms. The SSA can assist students with course selection, program planning, and other academic and self-registration questions. They are also able to provide referrals to a number of other support offices on campus, based on each student's particular needs. Contact your program's SSA with your questions or concerns using the contact information found below. You can also visit the Office of Student Success & Retention website for more information.
